

4.5 Terms for Observers

Positive working relationships are an important factor for success, and it can take time for parties to establish those constructive relationships. Continuity and consistency in representation are useful. Due to these considerations, CIF constituencies appoint representatives to serve as Observers for a fixed time period of 24 months.