

September 30, 2011

Comments from United Kingdom on Approval by mail:
Proposed SREP Roster of Independent Experts

Dear Patricia,

Thank you for sending the SREP roster of experts for independent reviews.

We note that many of those selected are strong technically and with strong development backgrounds and expertise, and we are content with those selected for this initial roster and happy for the decision to be adopted.

We do feel the list could be strengthened further with perhaps a bit more economic expertise - which would be useful for example when appraising economic viability of schemes etc. If this initial list is going to be added to in future (we note that there were more experts on the PPCR list) then perhaps this could be further considered?

Thanks again and best regards

Simon

Simon Foster
Policy Analyst | Low Carbon Development Team |
Climate & Environment Department | Department for International Development